OVERVIEW

The protection of children is everyone's responsibility. The Tasmanian community has expressed its intentions for the protection of children through the Department of Health and Human Services; Children, Young Persons and Their Families Act 1997, (2013).

RATIONALE

Tamar Valley Steiner School seeks to inform staff of their obligations under relevant legislation, including the requirement to hold a current Registration to Work with Vulnerable People (Tasmania).

POLICY

Tamar Valley Steiner School, including any affiliated programs or services, is committed to providing a safe and supportive learning environment for all students, holding firmly to the understanding and belief that all children have a right to be protected from harm.

Mandatory reporting describes the legal obligation of certain professionals and community members to report incidences of child abuse.

Section 14(1) of the Children, Young Persons and Their Families Act 1997 outlines those persons who are mandated to report. This includes, but is not limited to:

- A principal (College Chair);
- A teacher in any educational institution (including a kindergarten);
- A person who provides child care, or a child care service, for fee or reward;
- A person concerned in the management of an approved education and care service, within the meaning of the Education and Care Services National Law (Tasmania), or a child care service licensed under the Child Care Act 2017;
- Any other person who is employed or engaged as an employee for, of or in, or who is a volunteer for or in education and child care.

These people are called mandated reporters.

An individual must ensure that their legal responsibilities are met, irrespective of the action taken by others.

Note: In Tasmania, the definition of abuse includes neglect.

PROCEDURE

As mandated reporters (under the Children, Young Persons and Their Families Act 1997) teachers, educators and others associated with the provision of education and care at Tamar Valley Steiner School must ensure that they report any knowledge, belief or suspicion that a child has suffered, or is at risk of, abuse.

This report may be made to either Child Safety Services (DHHS) 1300 737 639 (24 hours) or Strong Families, Safe Kids Services 1800 171 233.

The requirement to notify, overrides any confidentiality requirements that may otherwise govern a person's behaviour in this regard.

What is reportable?

Where a teacher, educator or person involved in the operation of the school has reasonable grounds for suspecting abuse, they hold a legal obligation to report their concerns to Child Safety Services (DHHS) or Strong Families, Safe Kids Services.

Any instance or suspicion of where a child is at risk (or potential risk) of neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse, domestic violence, psychological harm and/or emotional injury to the extent that the child has suffered, or is likely to suffer harm, detrimental to their well-being or development. These are all reportable offences.

What are reasonable grounds for suspecting abuse?

- A student tells you they have suffered non-accidental physical injury, neglect, sexual abuse and/or severe emotional abuse.
- Someone tells you a student has been abused.
- Your observations lead you to believe that the student has suffered non-accidental physical injury, neglect, sexual abuse and/or severe emotional abuse.
- You have serious concerns regarding the wellbeing of a student.

All mandated reporters hold a legal and moral responsibility to report any concerns regarding a student or other child who may be at risk of abuse.

Indicators of Abuse

One indicator in isolation may not indicate abuse or neglect. Each indicator needs to be considered in the context of the student's personal circumstances. - Dull, apathetic appearance
- Uses drugs or alcohol
- Early arrival at school or reluctance to leave

REPORTING THE CONCERN

Any observations and/or disclosures must be documented in a confidential manner and be discussed, in the first instance, with the College Chair.

It is vital to remember that confidentiality is of paramount importance and that the disclosure of this information should only be with those in the school (or relevant government bodies e.g. Police; DHHS) who are required to be notified.

The College Chair, in conjunction with the educator/teacher will take appropriate action to ensure a report is made to the appropriate authorities. These reporting procedures may include:

- The College Chair will report any knowledge, beliefs or suspicions to Child Safety Services or Strong Families, Safe Kids . The report may include a statement of the observations, information, opinions and other grounds on which the belief, suspicion of knowledge is based. The College Chair will maintain a written record of this communication and subsequent communications including evidence, observations, discussions or actions.
- Child Safety Services or Strong Families, Safe Kids will notify the School of any further action required, including how to proceed.
- The College Chair may request an undertaking from Child Safety Services or Strong Families, Safe Kids to keep them informed of the progress of the report and the safety of the student, within the bounds of confidentiality.
- As all individual mandated reporters must report any concerns regarding a student or other child who may be at risk of abuse, individual teachers and educators must ensure that a report has been made.

After a Report Has Been Made

Tamar Valley Steiner School and any affiliated programs and services will implement appropriate guidance given from Child Safety Services, Strong Families, Safe Kids, Tasmania Police or other relevant authorities. Staff will continue to observe, supervise and record any relevant information. The College Chair will continue to liaise with Child Safety Services or Strong Families, Safe Kids to ensure the provision of ongoing support for those involved.

If following a report, a family member or other person approaches the school to discuss any aspect of the report, it is recommended that any interview is conducted with a minimum of two Executive members present (e.g. The College Chair and one other person) to provide support and transparency. Confidentiality regarding the report and any associated matters must be maintained at all times. No aspect of the report must be discussed with another party, unless directed to do so by Child Safety Services, Strong Families, Safe Kids or Tasmania Police. It is important to remember that the focus of the meeting should be the health and welfare of the student.

Staff Response to a Disclosure of Abuse or Neglect

There may be times when a student makes a disclosure of abuse. In these circumstances, staff must be mindful not to:

- Express judgement or blame the student;
- Promise confidentiality;
- Get angry, upset or show shock;
- Say “forget it”, “you’ll get over it” or other similar statements;
- Engage in general staffroom discussion regarding the disclosure.

To further support the student, staff may:

- Use 'protective interrupting' (where a student begins to disclose in class or other public area) by:
 - acknowledging that you have heard them;
 - being supportive and gently indicating that they might tell you about it in a more private situation; and
 - Quietly arranging to see them as soon as possible, in a situation away from other students.
 - Establish clear limits on confidentiality;
 - Listen attentively;
 - Allow students to tell the event in their own words; DO NOT ask for details, put words in students' mouths, give a lecture about right and wrong or conduct an investigation (other agencies have this responsibility);
 - Be supportive and understanding;
 - Accept what is said – only the minimum of information is required;
 - Be calm, non-judgmental and empathetic to the student's feelings;
 - Acknowledge the courage required to take this step;
 - Reassure the student that it is right to tell, that they are believed and that they are not to blame;
 - Offer the student the option of relevant support, including interviews;
 - Reassure the student of ongoing support;
 - Explain what may happen next, (e.g. notifying the School Chair; contacting Child Safety Services);
 - Where possible, remain with student until necessary steps have been taken to support their safety and security.

Staff must be aware that a disclosure may generate strong feelings of shock, anger and helplessness in them. Counselling support for staff will also be available as required.

Prevention of Harm within the School Environment

- a) The School will have in place an assessment process to ensure that all people working or volunteering with children within the school environment are fit and proper persons to work with students. This will include, but is not limited to, each person holding a current Working with Vulnerable People Check (Tasmania).
- b) All staff and volunteers must adhere to the School's Code of Conduct for Employees.
- c) Induction and in-service processes will ensure that all staff members, volunteers and students on practicum placement are conversant with relevant policies, related procedures and legislative requirements.

Note: Under section 14 of the Children, Young Persons and Their Families Act 1997, where a mandated person informs Child Protection Services or Strong Families, Safe Kids Services of a belief, suspicion or knowledge of abuse as soon as practicable after the belief or suspicion was formed or of the gaining of the knowledge of abuse, it is taken that the person has informed the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services.
